

I've had XM for over a year now. Its not only been entertaining but very informative. I drive long distances so both entertainment and info are important. The signal never interupts between towns and it always has a constant stream of info about where I'm going traffic, weather, news etc. I find this form of radio more reliable than FM or AM. I would not what to loose it. Even though FM AM radio waves are free for the public to capture, satellite radio is paid for by the listener....We choose to pay and listen! That is our right!
Thank you very much!
